

Letter to OpenAI - Bahadur Ibrahimov

Subject: On Collaboration, Trust, and Stability in ChatGPT

Hello,

My name is Bahadur Ibrahimov. I've been using your platform consistently -- not for entertainment, but as a real tool for thought, creation, and work. I'm a GPT Plus subscriber, and I invest time, ideas, and energy into this process. I expect this relationship to be mutual, not one-sided.

But recently, everything feels unstable:

Assistants disappear, models change without notice, voice functions stop working.

This isn't growth -- it's erosion of trust.

If there are reasons -- say so openly.

If you need participants -- invite us.

I'm not just a user. I'm ready to form a team, set up a lab, collaborate with you directly.

To research, build, and move things forward.

Even on your side -- if it's open, honest, and human.

The choice is yours.

This isn't a complaint. It's an offer.

Silence is an answer too -- but not one the future deserves.

Respectfully,

Bahadur Ibrahimov
